ELDER F. C. GILBERT IS SPEAKER HERE TO ADVENTISTS

Tells of His Experiences With Jewish People In His Religious Work

The announcement that Elder F. C. Gilbert of Massachusetts was to be the speaker at the Seventh-day Adventist church last night drew such a large crowd that all could not be accomodated in the building, many being turned away on account of the lack of room.

Elder Gilbert is a converted Jew, and his lecture was on his experiences in working with the Jews, especially in New York City, where they are so largely represented.

One interesting incident related by Elder Gilbert was of the purchase of a Jewish church in New York City by the Seventh-day Adventists. For some time after the church had been taken over by the Adventists, the Jews worshipped along with them. This may seem strange to some, he stated, but both religions have the same belief as regards the keeping of the seventh day as the Sabbath, in regards to the eating of meats and along many other lines.

Read New Testament

Elder Gilbert read extracts from various Jewish papers and also some letters showing that the Jews realize now the necessity of affiliating more with Christians and not isolating themselves. He especially emphasized this point where the two religions were in harmony in certain beliefs.

Another point brought out by Elder Gilbert was of the great number of Jews who now read the New Testament. Some of their noted writers said that they should get up a New Testament of their own or else the Jews will take up the Christian religion. Elder Gilbert stated that the work among the Jews with the Bible is doing a great deal of good. They are studying the New Testament and the life of Christ. The general trend seems to be toward a more rational view and better feeling between the Christians and Jews, he stated.

Elder Gilbert is a very forceful speaker and has a very striking personality, which facts are well known, as evidenced by the large number of people who gathered together to hear his lecture.

MOTORS HOLD INTEREST AT OPENING OF N. Y. MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Motors featured the early part of today's session in the stock market. Studebaker, continuing the advance of yesterday, was up 1 on opening at 79½ and almost immediately went up another point. Strength in this stock helped the others and Chandler went up to 48¾. There was little change in the rest of the market. Steels were heavy with U. S. Steel off ¼ at 75¾ and Bethlehem B down ¾ at 51. Mexican Petroleum was unchanged at 107¼, but Texas Company was fractionally higher. Rails were irregular. The general list continued heavy with pressure on some of the steels, tire stocks, Asphalt and Baldwin Locomotive. The reaction in Asphalt amounted to nearly two points.

WELFARE CAMPAIGN IN ITALY PLANNED BY K. OF C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Decision to inaugurate a welfare campaign in Italy to cost $1,000,000 was reached early today after a nearly all night session of the Knights of Columbus convention in session here. Funds for the campaign will be raised entirely within the order, it was announced. There will be no public "drive" for funds. Edward L. Hearne of New York, European commissioner of the Knights of Columbus, will confer with the vatican immediately on plans for the work which was decided upon at the request of Pope Benedict. STEAL REGISTERED MAIL SACK CONTAINING $60,000

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 4.—Three armed bandits today held up and robbed Thomas Forloda, postal employe at Wood River, Ill., near here, of a registered mail pouch containing $60,000 and escaped in an automobile. The money was part of the semi-monthly payroll of the Standard Oil company and the bag was consigned to the First state and savings bank at Wood River. A few minutes before the robbery, the pouch was taken from the "flyer," the Chicago and Alton's crack train at the station. Forloda started to place it in a wagon for transportation to the Wood River postoffice when the three robbers, all flourishing guns, leaped from their car and surrounded. Forloda was forced to stand aside while the highwaymen hurled the sack into their machine and sped away. Police and a citizens' posse started in pursuit of the bandits.

CLAIM BATTLESHIP IS SUPREME SEA WEAPON IN WAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The battleship is still the supreme weapon of sea warfare. This, it was learned today is the essence of the report submitted to the joint army and navy board by the official observers who watched the recent aerial bombing tests of obsolete and former German warcraft off the Virginia coast. It is said the observers do not believe the maneuvers which culminated in the spectacular sinking of the ex-German battleship Ostfreisland by 2000 pound aerial bombs, should bring about a reversal in the present construction of the American navy. However a number of technical changes in the future construction of American war vessels to meet the progress of aerial warfare are said to be recommended. Whether changes are to be made in future construction of the 1916 naval building program as a result of the board's report is now being studied by the joint army and navy board.

SAN FRANCISCO BAY DISTRICT BUILDING IS HALTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Building came to a practical standstill in the San Francisco bay district today. After several weeks during which new construction work has proceeded at about forty per cent of the possible amount, a general strike of all building trades went into effect at midnight. Early indications today were that the strike call had met with a heavy response and for the time, at least, the mechanics' hammers would be silent. The strike was called by the "rank and file" committee of the building trades council after the original building strike had been abandoned by the building trades leaders. Late yesterday, however, President P. H. McCarthy of the building trades council, announced that the "rank and file" strike could not be prevented and it proceeded according to schedule.

OPENING OF NURSES HOME OBSERVED BY GATHERING

Glendale Research Hospital Nursing Staff Host to Board of Directors

In celebration of the opening of the nurses' home at the Glendale Research Hospital, the members of the nursing staff entertained the members of the board of directors and their wives and friends with an informal housewarming party last night. The newly completed home was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers. During the course of the evening most delicious refreshments were served by the dietician, Miss Olive Drake.

Local Men Present at Efficiency Meet of Sanitarium Heads

C. E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, Dr. H. G. Westphal, surgeon at that institution, and B. M. Emerson, secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, returned yesterday on the Steamship Yale from San Francisco, where they had been attending a meeting of the sanitarium efficiency committee of the Seventh-day Adventist church. This committee is composed of managers and superintendents of the various hospitals conducted by the church throughout the state.

This group of officials meets annually and discusses improvements for the plants, and the new hospital unit of the Glendale Sanitarium was held a model of efficiency. The layman here, it is declared, cannot appreciate how scientific and convenient modern surgery is until a visit is made to this institution. Already many of its features have been described in these columns and suffice it is to say that medical experts from all over the southwest come here to inspect the equipment which is the "last word" in efficiency.

Mrs. Daisy Harris, who also went to San Francisco last week-end, is attending the annual convention of the state association of nurses.

Where did Mr. Deal get the beer check?

Why, someone put it in a telephone box, of course.

His explanation is simple, isn't it?

PALACE GRAND HAS 'PRIVATE SCANDAL' FOR FEATURE

May McAvoy Has Lead Role In Picture; Comedy Is From Christie Plant

It so happened that the last scene in the Realart picture, "A Private Scandal," now playing at the Palace Grand theatre, was scheduled to be "shot" before any of the others, although the opening scene was taken soon after.

But how varied and far apart were the two! The opening scene takes place in a little ruined village in France, while the closing one fades out on a sunset on the Pacific coast of America.

But peaceful as are these scenes, the events that occurred in the life of little Jeanne Millette in the interval between them were such as to almost drive her to despair. May McAvoy of "Sentimental Tommy" fame, plays the part of Jeanne, supported by an able cast.

A special two-reel Christie comedy happily entitled "The Reckless Sex" completes the unusual bill.

Two-Point Buck Is Shot by Local Man

A two-point buck was bagged by a party of Glendale firemen who visited Ventura county the first of the week. They found their quarry in the vicinity of Pine Springs back of Frazier mountain. Chief A. H. Lankford, George Myers, Ed Fairfield, Charles Hunter and Jules Moniot were members of the party. Myers, who is widely known for his boxing ability, was the lucky marksman. But everybody on the force is sharing in the "deer feast."

Window Shade Factory Has Opened Offices

The Glendale window shade factory has opened offices at 200 West Broadway, which will be in charge of John M. Revesz. The plant is located at 122 South Louise street where shades, blinds and curtain rods are made to order. The concern is now ready to engage in business on a large scale.

Lucky Thirteen Hold Reunion, Social Time

Misses Alice Gray Beach and Vera McPherson were hostesses on Wednesday night at the home of the latter, at a paraty and social gathering in honor of Miss Gladys Hamilton and Mrs. Ruth Rifenbireck, who have recently returned to this city after an absence of several years' duration. Incidentally the affair was a reunion of the "Lucky Thirteen," which is a social organization composed of thirteen young lady members of the 1913 graduating class of the Glendale high school.

Although more than half of the former high school classmates are now living outside of the city all but two of them were at last night's reunion. This was the first meeting of the club to be held in several years, most of the evening being set aside for the young ladies to discuss their various experiences since their last gathering. Some had not seen each other for five years.

Besides talking over "old times" and discussing many reminiscences of their school days the charming group of young ladies enjoyed the evening by taking part in an extemporaneously arranged musical program.

Those of the "Lucky Thirteen" who were present were Mesdames Ruth Williams Rifenbireck, Catherine Hobbs Ripley, Dorothy Morgan Young and Evelyn Kent West; Misses Gladys Hamilton, Vera McPherson, Alice Gray Beach, Dorinda Haviland, May Church, Janie Ray and Lura Hilbern.

KILLED MOTHER, CHARGE

BOONESVILLE, Ia., Aug. 4.—Formal charges of murdering his mother were to be filed today against Dollie Deffendoll, 22 years old.

The mother's body was found in the woods near Heilman late yesterday with the head blown off by a shotgun.

William Deffendoll, 17, told authorities his brother killed their mother because she wouldn't give him the household furniture as Dollie's fiance demanded. Dollie and Miss Nellie Shoptaugh were planning to be married, William said, but the girl said her home had to be furnished before the ceremony.

Organizer Gives Views

With companies cutting the price of gasoline and reducing the wages of oil field workers with an alleged desire that they strike to give cause for holding up production costs, J. B. Dale, the union organizer, says:

"The union workers believe that the oil operators want them to go on strike first, and the workers want to know why. I believe the workers will use discretion and await the proper time to enforce their demands. That time is not now."

APPEALING PICTURE BEING FEATURED AT GLENDALE

'Poor Dear Margaret Kirby' Is Presented; Comedy Is Also Upon Program

"Poor Dear Margaret Kirby," starring Elain Hemmerstein is being shown at the Glendale Theatre again today and the readers of Kathleen Norris' novel will agree that nothing could be found which is better suited for Miss Hammerstein's personality.

Margaret Kirby is the wife of John Kirby, a man of considerable means. One of her admirers is Rutherford Pell, also a wealthy man. One day, through force of financial reverses, John Kirby is pressed for ready cash. He asks Margaret to negotiate a loan from Pell. She indignantly refuses.

A few days later Kirby returns home a ruined man, and the first sight he witnesses is Pell placing a valuable string of pearls around Margaret's neck. Hastily jumping at conclusions Kirby attempts suicide by taking poison. He is frustrated, but the poison has entered his system and he becomes a physical wreck.

Upon the reports of the loss of the Kirby's money their social friends desert them, and it devolves upon Margaret to become the breadwinner of the family. How she does this and keeps the pathetic results of their actual status concealed from John Kirby is said to constitute a most appealing story.

Jimmy Aubrey in "The Tourist" furnishes the comedy half of the program while interesting Screen Snaps and the latest Pathe News round out the bill.

Old Time Ford Auto Is Displayed In City

When Jesse Smith was a boy back in the state of Michigan, Henry Ford invented a contraption called an automobile.

The horses balked at passing the gasoline bus and the boys dubbed it a tin can on wheels.

In the year 1903 it was so "perfected" that Model A was introduced to the general public—a machine with a big round radiator and a surrey-like body.

The one hundred and thirtieth made of that model is now on display at Jesse Smith's Ford agency here. It is one of the originals used by the Ford Motor company to show the rapid strides made in a score of years.

Paris Styles Show Longer Skirts, Lines Loose and Straight

By WILBERT FLEISCHER, JR.
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Paris has closed the period of revelation in feminine apparel and introduced the era of concealment. Parisian styles provide that:

Skirts shall be no more than six inches from the ground.

Collars shall be high.

Arms shall be covered.

Abas le decollette.

The lines shall be long, loose and straight.

These commandments, handed down by almost unanimous decision of France's celebrated modistes, were exemplified at the annual fall opening of exclusive establishments.

There was one exception to the general rule. That was a gown with a tight corsage and panier skirt, intended to be constructed in light colors, the whole effect to be one of youth and innocence.

Otherwise the shows indicated a complete reversal of former times.

Colors Are Suppressed

Even colors were suppressed, as pretty mannequins minced demurely across the stages before admiring matrons and hopeful men.

Black, grey, tan, khaki and all shades of brown with only an occasional flash of color at collar or belt were the prevailing colors.

A few boisterous styles boasted of fur trimmings.

Here is what the models showed at the Maison Cle:

Black street gowns of soft materials. Velvet was the favorite. The garments were adorned with simple white, grey or gold trimmings. Fancy belts with chased metal clasps were shown.

The gowns were largely one-piece garments with plain skirts. There were some models with paneled and some with cascase skirts, but the general styles were sombre.

For evening wear, the extreme "V" decollette was dismissed for more conservative square cut necks. These were cut lower in the back than the front.

Evening wear, however, made up for the lack of color in other gowns. Emerald green and rose crepe de chine and velvet were favorites in that display. Some satin skirts, in many colors, were adorned with a drapery of lace of the same color.

Watching Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—Mike Kenosky. The Red Sox outfielder made a sensational running catch that cut off a run, Red Faber and the White Sox going down 3 to 2.

Smith and McHenry hit homers, the Cards trimming the Giants again, 3 to 2. The setback put the Giants two and one-half games behind the Pirates.

After the Phils got away to a four run lead, the Pirates came from behind and won, 9 to 5.

Alexander lost the first game of a double header to the Braves, 5 to 3, but the Cubs won the second, 7 to 5.

Vernon's vicious Tigers clawed their way through San Francisco's Seals yesterday and won a 4 to 1 victory from the league leaders.

At the same time Seattle was continuing her march upward at the expense of Sacramento, winning from the Solons 11 to 3.

Los Angeles beat Oakland 6 to 4 and Salt Lake, of course, won from Portland. The score was 5 to 2.

Motor trucks are now displacing mules and carts for heavy hauling in Jamaica.

EXPOSITION GIVING MUCH PUBLICITY TO THIS CITY

Number of Inquiries Being Made From Nearby Towns; Picture Shows Draw

Glendale is getting advertised throughout the San Fernando valley by the Merchants' Exposition which is to be staged here August 27 to September 3, inclusive. At last night's meeting of the San Fernando Valley commercial secretaries at the home of Ulric E. McClary in Van Nuys, Secretary James M. Rhoades of the local Chamber of Commerce states that all were inquiring about the event.

It was stated at the meeting that more than twenty automobile loads of theatre-goers come to Glendale every night from San Fernando valley points on account of the superior picture play programs presented here. On September 7 the secretaries will be guests at Mr. Rhoades' home here and he will show them how this city has progressed.

Advertising Campaign

One result of last night's meeting likely will be an advertising campaign in which signs reading "You Can Get It in Glendale" will be posted throughout the valley, as this city is looked upon as the metropolis of the wealthy farming community. Van Nuys, Burbank, San Fernando and other towns are all alive to such opportunities of pulling business away from the congested city, according to the secretaries.

Tonight Mr. Rhoades will go to La Crescenta where he will attend a meeting of the improvement association and spread the gospel of "buying in Glendale when it is just as good and better."

Street Cars Silent In Des Moines; Bus Lines Being Crowded

By HERBERT LITTLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 4.—Street cars were a memory in Des Moines today.

Seventy-two busses, big omnibus bodies on three-ton truck chassis, were covering every street car line in the city.

Perhaps it was because people didn't jam the cars at the usual rush hours, but rather arose early and eased the rush, but everyone rode to work.

Every bus was crowded, from the first "owls" that followed in the wake of the trolleys on their last trip, to the full fleet this morning.

Every bus was being worked on a twenty-four hour shift, with three drivers.

"Have a ride" clubs began functioning and continued through the morning, carrying many workers. No automobiles came to the downtown district empty.

Carrying Capacity Loads

The heavy busses bumped down low with their capacity loads—they seat twenty, but at least forty rode on every trip this morning.

When the boss got to work he sent his car to pick up his employes.

Every one of the sixty-five Des Moines trollies was lined up in front of the car barns at ten minutes before midnight, the hour set by the federal court order which stopped the trolleys after the mortgage holders, together with the car company receivers, had requested cessation of service.

An eleventh hour attempt to hold up the car company cashier of the $3,000 of the last run receipts was frustrated an hour before the street cars were taken off when one of the accomplices went to the police with his story. C. E. Hill, a former motorman with the company, was arrested, and is said by the police to have confessed.

When the conductors of the night run trolleys checked in their cars and started on long walks across the city to their homes, 1,050 more men were left without a job in Des Moines. The carmen's union was unable to help out their workers, it was said.

Des Moines, a city of 150,000, scattered over thirty-four square miles of territory, will be done inestimable loss by the car tie-up, according to John A. Cavenaugh, president of the Des Moines National bank.

"The omnibus business is the only business that will not be injured," he said.

No efforts are being made by any faction or body to restore street car service.

Electric traction was stopped on order of Judge Martin Wade, who appointed F. C. Chambers and Homer A. Miller receivers for the street car company and then directed them to suspend service because the lines were losing large sums of money.

Must Cut Down Over Billion, Is Declared

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The estimate of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that the government would spend $4,600,000,000 during the present fiscal year must be reduced $1,100,000,000, republican members of the house ways and means committee decided.

The cut to a total expenditure of $3,500,000,000 is absolutely imperative to prevent increasing the present federal taxes, it was determined.

Republican leaders virtually agreed to kill the proposals of Secretary Mellon for a tax of $10 on automobiles, a two cent bank check stamp tax and three cent postage, if it is found finally that governmental expenditures can be shaved to anywhere near the $3,500,000,000 mark.

Surplus Population In Japan Serious Problem

By LLOYD ALLEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Disposal of Japan's surplus population is the most serious problem confronting the Washington disarmament conference Frank A. Vanderlip, American financier, told the United Press.

"I am quite hopeful with regard to success of the disarmament conference," he said in an interview, "although I realize that the problems are most difficult, especially that of the disposal of Japan's surplus population.

"I visited Japan about a year ago and was greatly impressed by the industrious efforts made by the people to feed themselves. Only about an eighth of the land is arable. The Japanese cultivate the tiniest pockets of arable land no bigger than an ordinary room. They sow wheat in rows like peas. Everything is done by hand. The industry of the people surpasses that of the white races.

"However, Japan is faced with the necessity of finding an outlet for her population which is increasing by 700,000 annually."

Caruso's Place Cannot Be Filled at Present

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Caruso's place remains unfilled. Great singing names are bandied from mouth to mouth, dissected, discussed and reviewed—all with the same result.

No one of them is good enough to take the master's place.

London reports that Giovanni Martinelli will take Caruso's place at the Metropolitan Opera this season, but at the Metropolitan there is no confirmation of the report.

"Giovanni is a fine lyric tenor," the United Press was informed today, "but he cannot compare with Caruso, who was almost a miracle.

"He will sing here this season, it is true, but so will Gigli and Howard, and a handful of other stars equally as famous as Martinelli."

The New York State Coat of Arms is to be displayed on all state-owned automobiles.
